

The Architectural League Prize for Young Architects + Designers 2023: Uncomfortable Online Exhibition

Established in 1981, the Architectural League Prize for Young Architects + Designers is a juried portfolio competition for early-career practitioners based in North America, organized around a yearly theme. Open to architects and designers ten years or less out of a bachelor's or master's degree program, the competition recognizes six talented practices each spring. The winners present their work to the public through a lecture series, exhibition, and collection of interviews and profiles on the League's website.

The 2023 competition theme, "Uncomfortable" asked entrants to examine their discomforts: "As young designers, we are wrestling with numerous uncomfortable responsibilities: dismantling architectural legacies, challenging traditional paradigms, grappling with the costs of comfort, responding to ecological concerns. Our many discomforts range in scale, context, and urgency. [...] From climate change to labor practices, the sources of our discomfort demand both critical reflection and collective imagination. Are you restless within the discipline's status quo? How do you respond to discomfort? Whose comfort matters?"
