Through exhibitions, publications, research projects, lecture series, and other special events, the League reconsiders the past and explores new concepts in architecture and culture.

Reservations for lectures are one of the benefits of League membership, which is open to architects, designers, engineers, landscape architects, students, and friends of the arts. Benefits include free or reduced admission to League lectures, panel discussions, symposia, and exhibit openings.

All lectures begin at 6:30 p.m.
