NEW YORK, NY, June 10, 2025—The Architectural League of New York is pleased to announce the opening of Plot, an online exhibition featuring original work by the six winners of the 2025 League Prize for Young Architects + Designers. In combination with their lectures and interviews, this exhibition spotlights the winners' interpretations of the 2025 competition theme, which asked designers to address how architecture is informed by considerations of Plot, “whether as land, drawing, or scheme.” In six installations which reflect a rich variety of responses, interests, and modes of practice, the winners “map out the throughlines that shape their work” and address the “dramas shaping architecture’s arc today.”

The League Prize is an annual portfolio competition organized by the Young Architects + Designers Committee, working with the League's programs and membership director Anne Rieselbach and program manager Zoe Fruchter. The committee, a group selected each year from past winners of the League Prize, is responsible for developing the program's theme and selecting competition jurors. The members of the 2025 committee are Rayshad Dorsey, Liz Gálvez, and Miles Gertler. The jury consisted of Behnaz Assadi, Mario Gooden, Jia Yi Gu, and William O'Brien Jr. in addition to this year's Young Architects + Designers Committee.
